HENRY MEIGS, Rec. Sec.'s.

17 To the Public.—We the undersigned, having stossed Nicaragua, en route from California to New York, under the impression and solemn assurance of the agents of the line that it was quicker and more desirable than that by Panama; and having found it so entirely different, having suffered great detention, less and exposure, we deem it a cuty to the public to make known the facts. The steamer Independence, in which we left San Francisco, brough down more than double the number of passengers she could accommedate, and more than double the number the agent represented as having taken passage on her. The boat, too, is an unfit and unsafe sea boat. The consequence was that our passage to San Juan del Sad was one of great danger and suffering.

beat, tow, is an unfit and unsafe sea boat. The consequence was that our passage to San Juan del Sad was one of grad danger and suffering.

We confidently expected on arriving at San Juan del Sod, to be provided with transportation for curselves and baggage immediately, as we had been led to believe that the transit would not require more than forty-eight hours. We found, however, that the agent had not provided animals, and could not procure them; so that after remaining two days, many of the passengers set off on foot, under the assurance that their baggage would be forwarded to them, and that the steamer would not leave Pauma without it. We found the read to Lake Nicaragna nearly impracticable, and the distance, instead of being twelve unless, many of us had to travel thirty. The boats on the Lake and River are very small and matt for passengers, and skihough packed like slave ships, could not take half of the passengers. We were without food, and exposed to violent rains. On the seventh day we reached San Juan del Norte, and were forced to come away at once in the Prometheus. Not more than one-half the passengers of the Independence have been able to get through; the remander, some two hundred, being lefton the route with the specie, and nearly all the baggage. We were most univally received, and miserably provided for on board the Prometheus. In consequence, we left her at Havana, and by the kindness of Capt Schenck we were received on board the Ohio.

It is not necessary to give a detailed account of the anoyances to which we have been subjected by the misrepresentation and resolence of Agents—the want of food and room, the loss of baggage and unexpected delay—it is energy to the properties our conviction that under the present management and in the present condition of the roads, and the present means of transpertation, the Panama route is eire Lawengers from the opposition line.
